LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO DEC. 4.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The President's Message.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—[The President's message is now being received. We give the portion relating to relations with Great Britain.—Reporter.]

The past year has, under a wise Providence, been one of general prosperity to the nation. It has, however, been attended with more than usual chastisements in loss of life and property by storm and fire. The disasters have served to call forth the best elements of human nature in our country, and to develop a friendship for us on the part of foreign nations which goes far towards alleviating the distress occasioned by calamities. The benevolent who have so generally poured their means with the victims of these misfortunes will reap their reward in the consciousness of having performed a noble act, and in receiving the grateful thanks of men, women and children whose sufferings they have relieved.

The relations of the United States with foreign powers continues to be friendly. The year has been an eventful one, in seeing two great nations speaking one language and having one lineage, settling by peaceful arbitrations disputes of long standing, and liable at any time to bring these nations into hostile conflict, an example has thus been set, which, if successful in its final issue, may be followed by other civilized nations, and be the final means of returning to productive industry millions of men maintained to settle the disputes of nations by the bayonet and sword. I transmit herewith a copy of the treaty alluded to, which has been concluded since the adjournment of Congress, with Her Britanic Majesty, and a copy of the protocols of the conferences of Commissioners by whom it was negotiated. This treaty provides methods for adjusting the questions pending between the two nations. The various questions are to be adjusted by arbitrations. I recommend Congress at an early day to make provision for the tribunal of Geneva, and also for the several Commissioners on the part of the United States called for by the treaty. His Majesty the King of Italy, the President of the Swiss Confederation, and His Majesty the Emperor of Brazil, have each consented, on the joint request of the two Powers, to name an arbitrator for the tribunal at Geneva. I have caused my thanks to be suitably expressed for the readiness with which the joint request has been complied with, by the appointment of gentlemen of eminence and learning to the high positions. His Majesty the Emperor of Germany, has been pleased to comply with the joint wish of the two Governments and has consented to act as arbiter of the disputed water boundary between the United States and Great Britain. The contracting parties in the treaty have undertaken to regard as between themselves, certain principles of public law for which the United States have contended from the commencement of their history. They have also agreed to bring these principles to the knowledge of other maritime powers and to invite them to accede to them. Negotiations are going on as to the form of the note by which the invitation is to be extended to the Powers. I recommend the legislation necessary on the part of the United States to bring into operation articles of the treaty relating to fisheries and to other matters touching the relations of the United States towards the British North American possessions to become operative so soon as proper legislation shall be had on the part of Great Britain and its possessions. It is much to be desired that this legislation may become operative before the fisheries of the United States begin to make arrangements for the coming season. I have addressed a communication, of which a copy is transmitted herewith, to the Governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin, urging upon the Governors of those States respectively the necessary action on their part to carry into effect the articles of the treaty which contemplates the use of canals on either side connected with the navigation of the lakes and rivers forming the boundary in terms of equity by the inhabitants of both countries. It is hoped the importance of the object and benefits to flow therefrom will secure speedy approval and legislative sanction of the States concerned.

Report of the Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The Secretary of War has issued his report, the main facts relative to which were printed two weeks ago. The bureau shows that the army on July 1st had been reduced to 30,000. The expenses yearly are about forty million dollars, including nearly $4,000,000 for river and harbor improvements. The estimates for military purposes for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1872, are $32,415,472. The Treasury realizes thus far in the present fiscal year $21,766,403 from the sales of arms and other sources. An estimate of three millions is made for the settlement of claims for due States for calling troops into service.

The Secretary says it is with great embarrassment that appropriations made at the last session of Congress can be so economized as to answer the pressing requirements of the service. He recommends that extra Lieutenants authorized to serve as Regimental Quartermasters be discontinued as vacancies occur in those grades, affecting the ultimate reduction of 59 Lieutenants. Also that the grade of Quartermaster General be abolished; also those of Company Artificer and Wagoner, which will save 1,165 enlisted men to the service, at a yearly cost of $412,740. The proceeds from the sales of clothing since June 30th, 1870, up to date is $1,575,715. The cost of transportation for the year was about a million and a half. Southern railroads still owe the Department $4,724,150.

The Secretary alludes to the existence of an armed and rebellious organization in the Southern States, and the necessity for a United States armed force to put down and bring the leaders to speedy justice. Secretary Belknap closes with renewed recommendation that fire proof buildings be erected for the War Department, with an expression of hope that reform will be effected in all the Departments of Government by the labors of the Civil Service Commission.

Navy Matters.

It is understood in navy circles that the navy estimates for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1872, amount to about thirty millions. These are in aggregate more than $1,200,000 less than those made for the current year, and more than half a million less than the appropriation made by Congress for that period. It is further said the Secretary will recommend that the grade of Commodore be dispensed with after this grade shall have elapsed by death, retirement or promotion of present incumbents; that promotions as usual be made to the grade of Rear Admirals as vacancies occur from lists of Captains; and that further decrease be made in officers by increasing Cadetship terms from four to six years. This is recommended as both a matter of efficiency and economy.

The message will be transmitted directly after the President shall have been informed by joint committee that they are ready to receive any communication he may have to make. Both the message and the report of the Secretary of the Treasury will be telegraphed to the press, but printed copies of reports of heads of Departments have been sent in advance of their delivery.

It is understood that Speaker Blaine has brought the list of standing committees to the city fully made up and has not consented to entertain the question of changing any important assignment. Unusual reticence has been observed, and all assertions as to particular appointments are entirely unauthorized. The list is expected to be announced to-morrow, shortly after the House proceedings commence. It has been ascertained from an official source that no correspondence whatever has passed between Minister Roberts and Secretary Fish relative to recent events at the Hdues.

Only about twenty claims have been presented to the United States and British Commission. At a meeting on Wednesday next important questions will be considered, as various claims of British subjects heretofore adjudicated in the Supreme Court and Court of Claims may now be presented to the Commission. A rule will probably be established concerning them. A large number of old cases, principally railroad corporations pending on internal revenue for some months will, at an early day, be taken up and disposed of by the Commission. The total number of certificates redeemed since the first issue is 479,880,600. Total amount outstanding on the 30th of June last was nearly twenty million dollars.

The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the Assistant Treasurer at New York to buy one million of bonds every Wednesday and sell one million of gold every Thursday during the month of December.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—HOUSE.—Speaker Blaine called the House to order at noon. There was a large number of spectators present. After prayer the roll was called, which was responded to by 201 members. After appointing a committee to wait on the President, the Speaker announced the Standing Committees. Dawes is Chairman of Ways and Means, Garfield of Appropriations and McCrary of Elections.

EASTERN STATES.

Senator Trumbull on the Political Situation.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 3.—The Courier Journal will to-morrow publish a Washington special giving a conversation between Senator Trumbull and prominent Southern politicians. The Senator declared with unusual emphasis, that he would not be a conservative candidate for President against Grant. He preferred his seat in the Senate, besides the people are not ready for a change. Grant's defeat would cause a reaction in the South which would be worse than the present state of affairs. Democrats will adopt the passive policy which is disbandment. The Republican party is not divided and will poll a larger vote than in 1868.

Small Pox in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—The Health Report shows 233 deaths from small pox during the past week.

The Russian Prince at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—The Grand Duke and suite visited Girard College and Fairmount Park this morning.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

From London.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—A fire at Warwick Castle last night did great damage. The great hall dining and other rooms were gutted, and the destruction was very great.

The Echo publishes a report from Berlin, that the German Government has resolved to occupy the districts evacuated by its troops in France, in case fresh outrages are committed by the French on German soldiers.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—Thirty-five sailors from the late Arctic whaling fleet arrived by the Moses Taylor; also Captain Hopkins, sole survivor of the brig Shelchoff.

The McMahon Grenadier Guard, Captain Conner, will go to Sacramento as an escort to the Governor on Inauguration day. The invitation to the National Guard, Captain Humphrey, first given, was respectfully declined. The Nationals last evening resolved, however, to go. It is possible, also, that Col. Barnes and the entire regiment will go.

Richard L. Green, a painter, was drowned while hunting in a small skiff on Laguna Merced yesterday.

The Moses Taylor brought a heavy shipment of Australian tallow for San Francisco.

There is nothing in the Australian or New Zealand dispatches indicating a resuscitation of Hall's Australian Ho. It appears probable that the recommendation of the Inter-Colonial Convention will be accepted and all colonies unite in subsidizing Webb's line via San Francisco and the Suez line.

The Fijians continue to fight among themselves. The wild natives who do not recognize His Majesty Cakobeau's claim as King of the Cannibal Islands, are residing on plantations and the people of Lorika are retaliating by killing hostile natives and pillaging their villages.

Weather clear and fine with wind light in the north.

The Evening Post, a new penny newspaper, made its appearance this evening and presents a very neat appearance and sold rapidly.

C. B. Darwin has been appointed Assistant District Judge, Hoe Judge Field on. Mrs. R. Taylor has been appointed Copying Clerk of the District Court.

Col. T. H. Hallock read a dispatch to day announcing the death of Hon. Thomas L. Smith, who for thirty years has held the position of First Auditor of the Treasury, having been appointed under Jackson.

Four hundred troops for Arizona arrived here to-day from Cheyenne, under command of George Carr.

A second dividend of 25 per cent. on the defunct Mooney bank will be declared in January, and probably a third in about six months.

NEWS CONDENSATIONS.

A dispatch from Constantinople report that there were 380 deaths from cholera in that city, ending November 16th.

The assessed valuation of the real estate of Philadelphia is $302,315,563. The value of real estate exempt from taxation is $50,591,223.

A New York paper says: "The short-necked, crop-haired, plug-ugly race of statesmen is greatly diminished in the vicinity of City Hall Park since the election."

The project of annexing Staten Island to New Jersey is again mooted. The islanders want to cut loose from New York and go to New Jersey where they say the island belongs by all geographical considerations.

It is thought probable that the Iowa Legislature will evade a direct vote on the woman suffrage question, by giving the people an opportunity to vote upon the question of striking the word "male" from the State Constitution.

The leading distillers of the country are mustering at Washington for the purpose of organizing another campaign for modifications of the law affecting their interest prominent among which will be the consolidation of taxes against them.

At the late reunion of the Army of the Cumberland, at Detroit, General Hooker made a speech, in which, after highly eulogizing General Thomas as a general who was always at the front and always successful, he went on to say that with General McClellan it was different. You might have fastened a locomotive to him and you could not have drawn him to the front."

If Russia intends to retain the friendship of the German Empire, she is going about it in rather a curious fashion. A vigorous "Russianization" of the German-speaking Baltic provinces is about the most irritating measure that could possibly be adopted in the present temper of the great Teutonic brotherhood. The use of the Russian tongue is forced, under the severest penalties, and the people of the provinces are not allowed to speak even in their own vernacular.

Products on Exhibition.

From a recent number of the New York Tribune we take this:

Washington Territory has caused herself to be represented at the banking-house of Jay Cooke & Co., Wall and Nassau streets, by one of the finest collections of products of the soil we ever set eyes on. It includes apples of two pounds weight, with enlarged specimens of some of our best known varieties; pears nearly as large and very good; turnips weighing 34 pounds each, with beets, parsnips, etc., to match, and a wonderous show of wheat, oats, etc. Blackberry canes of this years' growth, amply stout enough for walking-canes, give variety to the exhibition. We urge the lingerers about our city, vainly seeking "something to do," to examine these products of the land whereof a settler can take 160 acres for nothing, and be ashamed of turning their backs on the bounty of God to depend for a precarious subsistence on the needs or caprice of man.

A Virginia City husband caught his wife and the family physician kissing like young lovers in the gushingest stage, and offered a few remarks, whereat the lady began to cry. The husband inquired the reason. "Alas," replied she, "I weep because your utter want of confidence in me terribly affects my sensitive nature." The brute!

OREGON.

A bear was killed last week within a mile of Roseburg.

A dry dock is to be constructed at Empire City (Coos Bay) by H. H. Luse.

Another vessel is on the ways at Coos Bay. Over twenty have been built there.

The stage company now put on six horses to drag their vehicles through the Umpqua mud.

The wagon road from Roseburg to Coos Bay is nearly completed. It will be ready for travel next Spring.

A lot of apples, 400 boxes, has been shipped from Coos Bay to San Francisco. Something new from that quarter.

A man named Conuit, four miles from Oakland, Douglas county, who has just arrived from Indiana, has the small pox.

A tornado passed over Pocahontas, Baker county, last week, unroofing buildings, scattering fences and destroying trees.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Washington Territory Legislature has adjourned. It gave Kalama a city charter.

A heavy sale of mining property, situated at Rocky Bar, Idaho, has been made in London.

At the Olympia Land Office during the month of November 21,990 acres of land were disposed of.

A few days ago Edward Hunt was drowned in the Payette river, Idaho. He was fording the stream on horseback and was swept into deep water.

The storms of wind and snow in Utah have exceeded anything ever before known. The snow has drifted in places, and the weather is intensely cold.

Passenger cars will be on hand at Kalama by the first of the year. There is lack of four miles of iron to complete the first twenty-five miles, but it will come by the Welshpool, now due.

An accident occurred in a mine in Owyhee a few days ago, by which a man named Germaine Faure will most likely lose his life, or be a cripple for the remainder of his days. A blast was set off, which broke through into the shaft, a large quantity of rock falling to the bottom, a distance of 150 feet, where two men were at work. One escaped unhurt, but Faure had his head badly cut, and his right thigh mashed to splinters.

In the Tabernacle at Salt Lake City a few days ago, Elder Orson Pratt spoke with great earnestness in favor of polygamy. He said polygamy was one of the chief tenets of the Mormon religion, and that was taken away the religion would be destroyed. The proposal to give up polygamy for the sake of a State organization, or for any other purpose, would never receive the assent of the Mormon people. In fact, the Mormons would not surrender polygamy or any part of their religion for any government. These remarks were received with loud cries all over the house of "That's so; we can't."

President Grant and Renomination.

The Boston Advertiser is a paper which represents what may be called the moderate Republican sentiment of New England. In a recent article it thus speaks of the probable renomination of President Grant:

With regard to the Presidency we make no question that there is opposition to the President's renomination, earnest and determined, but not formidable. It is nothing but opposition. It has no affirmative side. It represents no separate policy, no common purpose, no recognized candidate, or hope of one. It is scattered, fragmentary, incongruous, with no possible center about which it can hope to be united. It bears the stamp of the opposition which every successful President has encountered. And in the long list of them there has not been one who would not have been condemned, if the virtues of his administration had not been allowed to compensate for its faults. But in cases like these no ex-parte trials are possible. The President must be judged by the whole record of what, when it is fairly presented, will not sustain him, he must go down. If, on the other hand, it be mainly favorable to him, and the country has gone forward under his guidance in all the essential elements of national welfare, he will be sustained and justified. We believe this can be said in its fullest breadth and meaning of the present administration, and that the particular reasons for which it is designed at this early period to prepare the way for another nomination for the Presidency rest upon the minor shortcomings of the administration or upon personal differences with which the public has no concern. Whatever complaints may be made against the President on this score, he stands before the country and before the world as the representative of a nation largely preserved through his genius, and of a national policy from which the nation has gained advantages already illustrious under his firm, intelligent and just direction. With the relations of parties remaining for six months as they are now, and no new causes of discontent or dissension rising to alienate the confidence now reposed in the President, it is no rash prophecy to predict that the national convention in June will nominate him again, with very little opposition, and that the country will accept him with the same degree of confidence with which it has hitherto endorsed the administrations and the appointed leadership of the party in power.

THE CHINESE WALL.—While ex-Secretary Seward was making his tour around the world he visited the great Wall in China, and expresses the following opinion in regard to it:

I don't think that the Almighty made any mistake in Niagara. If there is any mistake in that matter it is in the creatures that He made to study and contemplate his works. The Chinese have been for at least two or three thousand years a wall-making people. It would bankrupt New York or Paris to build the walls of the city of Pekin. The great Wall of China is the great wall of the world. It is forty feet high. The lower thirty feet is of hewn limestone or granite. Two modern carriages may pass each other upon the summit. It has a parapet throughout its whole length, with convenient staircases, buttresses, and garrison houses, at every quarter of a mile, and it runs, not by cutting down hills and filling valleys, but over the uneven crests of the mountains and down through their gorges, a distance of a thousand miles. Admiral Rodgers and I calculated that it would cost more now to build the great wall of China through its extent of one thousand miles than it has cost to build the fifty-five thousand miles of railroad in the United States. What a commentary it is upon the ephemeral rangs of the human intellect to see this great utilitarian enterprise, so necessary and effective two thousand years ago, now not merely useless, but an incumbrance and obstruction.

In his lecture in Boston Theodore Tilton said a nation without a divorce was a nation without virtue. France, he remarked, had no ground for divorce, and she was the most virtuous nation in Europe. South Carolina had no divorce, and she rots. Massachusetts had seven grounds for divorce, and she was the queen of the realm.

The Confederate Bondholders.

A recent letter from London contains the following paragraph relative to those Englishmen who were absurd enough to invest in the Confederate loan, and who render themselves even more absurd by clinging to the hope that they will ever get their money back:

The Confederate bondholders, living in a cloud land of their own, express confidence that, somehow or other, the American Government will be induced to accept the principle of the redemption of their bonds. To put the matter shortly, this is their argument. They profess that they had nothing to do with the state of civil war which existed in the United States at the time the bonds were issued. They allege that certain States, in the exercise of a legal right, sought to raise money for their war purposes, offering large stores of cotton as the security, and that as the Federal armies stepped in and either confiscated or destroyed the cotton, they are fairly entitled to compensation. It is not likely that special pleading of this shallow kind will have any weight on your side of the Atlantic. It is all very well for the Confederate bondholders to endeavor to separate themselves from the Confederate cause; but every Englishman who has the faculty of memory must be aware that what floated the loan was the strong political sympathy with the Southern insurgents which certain classes in this country (although

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO DEC. 4.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The President's Message.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—[The President's message is now being received. We give the portion relating to relations with Great Britain.—REPORTER.]

The past year has, under a wise Providence, been one of general prosperity to the nation. It has, however, been attended with more than usual ebullitions in loss of life and property by storm and fire. The disasters have served to call forth the best elements of human nature in our country, and to develop friendship for us on the part of foreign nations which goes far towards alleviating the distress occasioned by calamities. The benevolent who have so generally shared their means with the victims of these misfortunes will reap their reward in the consciousness of having performed a noble act, and in receiving the grateful thanks of men, women and children whose sufferings they have relieved.

The relations of the United States with foreign powers continue to be friendly. The year has been an eventful one, in seeing two great nations speaking one language and having one lineage, settling by peaceful arbitrations disputes of long standing, and liable at any time to bring these nations into hostile conflict, an example has thus been set, which, if successful in its final issue, may be followed by other civilized nations, and be the final means of returning to productive industry millions of men maintained to settle the disputes of nations by the bayonet and sword. I transmit herewith a copy of the treaty alluded to, which has been concluded since the adjournment of Congress with Her Britannic Majesty, and a copy of the protocols of the conference of Commissioners by whom it was negotiated. It treaty provides methods for adjusting the questions pending between the two nations. The various questions are to be adjusted by arbitrations. I recommend Congress at an early day to make provision for the tribunal of Geneva, and also for the several Commissioners on the part of the United States called for by the treaty. His Majesty the King of Italy, the President of the Swiss Confederation, and His Majesty the Emperor of Brazil, have each consented, on the joint request of the two Powers, to name an arbitrator for the tribunal at Geneva. I have caused my thanks to be suitably expressed for the readiness with which the joint request has been complied with, by the appointment of gentlemen of eminence and learning to the high positions. His Majesty the Emperor of Germany has been pleased to comply with the joint wish of the two Governments and has consented to act as arbitor of the disputed water boundary between the United States and Great Britain. The contracting parties in the treaty have undertaken to regard as between themselves, principles of public law for which the United States have contended from the commencement of their history. They have also agreed to bring these principles to the knowledge of other maritime powers and to invite them to accede to them. Negotiations are going on as to the form of the note by which the invitation is to be extended to the Powers. I recommend the legislation necessary on the part of the United States to bring into operation articles of the treaty relating to fisheries and to other matters touching the relations of the United States towards the British North American possessions to become operative as soon as proper legislation shall be had on the part of Great Britain and its possessions. It is much to be desired that this legislation may become operative before the fishermen of the United States begin to make arrangements for the coming season. I have addressed a communication, of which a copy is transmitted herewith, to the Governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin, urging upon the Governors of these States respectively the necessary action on their part to carry into effect the articles of the treaty, which contemplates the use of canals on either side connected with the navigation of the lakes and rivers forming the boundary in terms of equity by the inhabitants of both countries. It is hoped the importance of the object and benefits to flow therefrom will secure speedy approval and legislative sanction of the States concerned.

Report of the Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The Secretary of War has issued his report, the main facts relative to which were printed two weeks ago. The bureau shows that the army on July 1st had been reduced to 30,000. The expenses yearly are about forty million dollars, including nearly $4,000,000 for river and harbor improvements. The estimates for military purposes for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1872, are $32,415,472. The Treasury realizes thus far in the present fiscal year $21,766,403 from the sale of arms and other sources. An estimate of three millions is made for the settlement of claims yet due States for calling troops into service.

The Secretary says it is with great embarrassment that appropriations made at the last session of Congress can be so economized as to answer the pressing requirements of the service. He recommends that extra Lieutenants authorized to serve as Regimental Quartermasters be discontinued as vacancies occur in those grades, affecting the ultimate reduction of 30 Lieutenants. Also that the grade of Quartermaster General be abolished; also those of Company Artificer and Wagoner, which will save 1,165 enlisted men to the service, at a yearly cost of $412,740. The proceeds from the sales of clothing since June 30th, 1870, up to date is $1,875,718. The cost of transportation for the year was about a million and a half. Southern railroads still owe the Department $4,124,350.

The Secretary alludes to the existence of an armed and rebellious organization in the Southern States, and the necessity for a United States armed force to put down and bring the leaders to speedy justice. Secretary Belknap closes with renewed recommendation that fire proof buildings be erected for the War Department, with an expression of hope that reform will be effected in all the Departments of Government by the labors of the Civil Service Commission.

Navy Matters.

It is understood in navy circles that the navy estimates for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1872, amount to about thirty millions. These are in aggregate more than $1,200,000 less than those made for the current year, and more than half a million less than the appropriation made by Congress for that period. It is further said the Secretary will recommend that the grade of Commodore be dispensed with after this grade shall have elapsed by death, retirement or promotion of present incumbents; that promotions can be made to the grade of Rear Admirals as vacancies occur from lists of Captains; and that further decrease be made in officers by increasing Cadetship terms from four to six years. This is recommended as both a matter of efficiency and economy.

The message will be transmitted directly after the President shall have been informed by joint committee that they are ready to receive any communication he may have to make. Both the message and the report of the Secretary of the Treasury will be telegraphed to the press, but printed copies of reports of heads of Departments have been sent in advance of their delivery.

It is understood that Speaker Blaine has brought the list of standing committees to the city fully made up and has not consented to entertain the question of changing any important assignment. Unusual reticence has been observed, and all assertions as to particular appointments are entirely unauthorized. The list is expected to be announced to-morrow, shortly after the House proceedings commence. It has been ascertained from an official source that no correspondence whatever has passed between Minister Roberts and Secretary Fish relative to recent events at the House.

Only about twenty claims have been presented to the United States and British Commissioner. At a meeting on Wednesday next important questions will be considered, as various claims of British subjects heretofore adjudicated in the Supreme Court and Court of Claims may now be presented to the Commission. A rule will probably be established concerning them. A large number of old cases, principally railroad corporations pending on internal revenue, for some months will, at an early day, be taken up and disposed of by the Commission. The total number of certificates redeemed since the first issue is 479,866,000. Total amount outstanding on the 30th of June last was nearly twenty million dollars.

The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the Assistant Treasurer at New York to buy one million of bonds every Wednesday and sell one million of gold every Thursday during the month of December.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—HOUSE.—Speaker Blaine called the House to order at noon. There was a large number of spectators present. After prayer the roll was called, which was responded to by 201 members. After appointing a committee to wait on the President, the Speaker announced the Standing Committees. Dawes is Chairman of Ways and Means, Garfield of Appropriations and McCrary of Elections.

EASTERN STATES.

Senator Trumbull on the Political Situation.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 3.—The Courier Journal will to-morrow publish a Washington special giving a conversation between Senator Trumbull and prominent Southern politicians. The Senator declared with unusual emphasis, that he would not be a conservative candidate for President against Grant. He preferred his seat in the Senate, besides the people are not ready for a change. Grant's defeat would cause a reaction in the South which would be worse than the present state of affairs. Democrats will adopt the passive policy which is disbandment. The Republican party is not divided and will poll a larger vote than in 1868.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—Thirty-five sailors from the late Arctic whaling fleet arrived, by the Mosee Taylor, also Captain Hopton, sole survivor of the brig Shelenkoff.

The McMahon Grenadier Guard, Captain Conner, will go to Sacramento as an escort to the Governor on inauguration day. The invitation to the National Guard, Captain Humphrey, first given, was respectfully declined. The Nationals last evening resolved, however, to go. It is possible, also, that Col. Barnes and the entire regiment will go.

Richard L. Green, a painter, was drowned while hunting in a small skiff on Laguna Merced yesterday.

The Moses Taylor brought a heavy shipment of Australian tallow for San Francisco.

There is nothing in the Australian or New Zealand dispatches indicating a restoration of Hall's Australian line. It appears probable that the recommendation of the Inter-Colonial Convention will be accepted and all colonies unite in subsidizing Webb's line via San Francisco and the Suez line.

The Figians continue to fight among themselves. The wild natives who do not recognize His Majesty Abenezer First as King of the Cannibal Islands, are raiding on plantations and the people of Levoka are resisting by killing hostile natives and pillaging their villages.

The project of annexing Staten Island to New Jersey is again mooted. The islanders want to cut loose from New York and go to New Jersey, where they say the island belongs by all geographical considerations.

It is thought probable that the Iowa Legislature will evade a direct vote on the woman suffrage question, by giving the people an opportunity to vote upon the question of striking the word "male" from the State Constitution.

The leading distillers of the country are mustering at Washington for the purpose of organizing another campaign for modifications of the law affecting their interest, prominent among which will be the consolidation of taxes against them.

At the late reunion of the Army of the Cumberland, at Detroit, General Hooker made a speech, in which, after highly eulogizing General Thomas as a general who was always at the front and always successful, he went on to say that with General McClellan it was different. You might have fastened a locomotive to him and you could not have drawn him to the front."

If Russia intends to retain the friendship of the German Empire, she is going about it in rather a curious fashion. A vigorous "Russianization" of the Germans speaking Baltic provinces is about the most irritating measure that could possibly be adopted in the present temper of the great Teutonic brotherhood. The use of the Russian tongue is forced, under the severest penalties, and the people of the provinces are not allowed to speak even in their own vernacular.

Products on Exhibition.

From a recent number of the New-York Tribune we take this:

Washington Territory has caused herself to be represented at the banking-house of Jay Cooke & Co., Wall and Nassau streets, by one of the finest collections of products of the soil we ever set eyes on. It includes apples of two pounds weight, with enlarged specimens of some of our best known varieties; pears nearly as large and very good; turnips weighing 30 pounds each, with beets, parsnips, etc., to match, and a wonderous show of wheat, oats, etc. Blackberry canes of this years' growth, amply stout enough for walking-canes, give variety to the exhibition. We urge the lingerers about our city, vainly seeking "something to do," to examine these products of the land wherein a settler can take 160 acres for nothing, and be ashamed of turning their backs on the bounty of God to depend for a precarious subsistence on the needs or caprice of man.

A Virginia City husband caught his wife and the family physician kissing like young lovers in the gushingest stage, and offered a few remarks, wherein the lady began to cry. The husband inquired the reason. "Alas," replied she, "I weep because your utter want of confidence in me terribly affects my sensitive nature." The brute!

A tornado passed over Pocahontas, Baker county, last week, unroofing buildings, scattering fences and destroying trees.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Washington Territory Legislature has adjourned. It gave Kalama a city charter.

A heavy sale of mining property, situated at Rocky Bar, Idaho, has been made in London.

At the Olympia Land Office during the month of November 21,990 acres of land were disposed of.

A few days ago Edward Hunt was drowned in the Payette river, Idaho. He was fording the stream on horseback and was swept into deep water.

The storms of wind and snow in Utah have exceeded anything ever before known. The snow has drifted in places, and the weather is intensely cold.

Passenger cars will be on hand at Kalama by the first of the year. There is lack of four miles of iron to complete the first twenty-five miles, but it will come by the Webfoot, now due.

An accident occurred in a mine in Owyhee a few days ago, by which a man named Germaine Faure will most likely lose his life, or be a cripple for the remainder of his days. A blast was set off, which broke through into the shaft, a large quantity of rock falling to the bottom, a distance of 150 feet, where five men were at work. One escaped unhurt; but Faure had his head badly cut, and his right thigh mashed to splinters.

In the Tabernacle at Salt Lake City a few days ago, Elder Orson Pratt spoke with great earnestness in favor of polygamy. He said polygamy was one of the chief rebels of the Mormon religion, and if that was taken away the religion would be destroyed. The proposal to give up polygamy for the sake of a State organization or for any other purpose, would never receive the assent of the Mormon people. In fact, the Mormons would not surrender polygamy or any part of their religion for any government. These remarks were received with loud brics all over the house of "That's so; we can't."

President Grant and Renomination.

The Boston Advertiser is a paper which represents what may be called the moderate Republican sentiment of New England. In a recent article it thus speaks of the probable renomination of President Grant:

With regard to the Presidency we make no question that there is opposition to the President's renomination, earnest and determined, but not formidable. It is nothing but opposition. It has no affirmative side. It represents no separate policy, no common purpose, no recognized candidate, or hope of one. It is sectional, fragmentary, incongruous, with no possible center about which it can hope to be united. It bears the stamp of the opposition which every successful President has encountered. And in the long list of them there is not here and there one who would not have been condemned, if the virtues of his administration had not been followed, to compensate for its faults. But in cases like these no ex-parte trials are possible. The President must be judged by the whole record; if that, when it is fairly presented will not sustain him, he must go down. If, on the other hand, it is mainly favorable to him, and the country has gone forward under his guidance in all the essential elements of national welfare, he will be sustained and justified. We believe this can be and in its fullest breadth and meaning of the present administration, and that the particular reasons for which it is designed at this early period to prepare the way for another nomination for the Presidency rest upon the minor shortcomings of the administration or upon personal differences with which the public has no concern. Whatever counts may be made against the President on this score, he stands before the country and before the world as the representative of a nation largely preserved through his genius, and of a national policy from which the nation has gained advantages already illustrious under his firm, intelligent and just direction. TUESDAY MORNING, DEC. 5, 1871.

Origin and History of Tammany.

The New York Herald devotes the whole of one of its broad pages to a history of the Tammany Society. It introduces its article by remarking that Tammany "has been a very despot in the Democratic body, and, true to the general course of despotism, it eventually became so imbued with corruption that it has been shorn of its power by the strong will of the people who have experienced its avarice and its iniquities; and it is now even proposed that its old charter shall be taken from it by the next legislature. Having promised this, the Herald proceeds to tell the story of defunct Tammany, "as a guide and a warning to those who are left behind."

The records of Tammany show that the Society was organized on the 12th of May, 1789, a few weeks after General Washington had taken the oath of office as first President of the United States. The name was derived from an Indian chief, who is supposed to have died about the year 1690. Of this chief many traditions were related, and the accounts of him that have been handed down seem to resemble the legendary stories told of the heroes of the pre-historic period of Greece or Rome. Cooper has celebrated his name in his novel, "The Last of the Mohicans."

The originators of the society were men who at that early day were possessed by the cardinal errors which the Democratic party of the country has always adhered to, and which led to the great civil war. That is, they were men who regarded the powers of the General Government as dangerous to the rights of the States and the liberties of the country. But during Washington's administration it was not a rabid political society; yet, when Jefferson came in, it espoused his dogmas, and from that time became exclusively a party institution.

The first Grand Sachem of the society was William Mooney, an upholsterer of New York City, who was an ardent State rights man. Freely in the present century the Society was severely shaken by dissensions, but managed to maintain its organization. It soon acquired valuable property, built a large wigwam, and grew in prosperity. Of late years it has been a free trade Society, but in 1819 when the country was suffering severely from a depression of its internal trade and manufacturing industry, it had the good sense to issue an address to the people of the United States earnestly recommending protection as a remedy. Tammany took a leading part in pushing forward Gen. Jackson for the Presidency, and gave his administration an unwavering support. Shortly after this the Society was much weakened by the defalcations of the "Locofoco" party, and subsequently by the contest between the "Hunkers" and "Barnburners." After the Democratic party went down in 1860, Tammany maintained a vigorous organization, the object being to control the revenues of the magnificent city of New York, and to keep at the head of the Democratic party of the United States. The Society then came under the control of vulgar thieves who saw a chance to promote their own interests at the expense of the public. They compelled the Democratic party to submit to their dictatorship or power of defeat by refusing to be allowed to lead; and the party fearing to lose Tammany's power gave up everything into their hands. The rest is known. Tammany's leading men [illegible] under arrest for public robbery, and the reputation of the Society is so bad that no honest man cares to have his [illegible] connection with it. The words Tammany and thief are now accepted as synonymous, and it is not improbable that the organization will soon be utterly abandoned.

Around the World.

From the New York Times we learn that "through tickets" to go round the world are now issued, the price being $1,145 in gold, and the running time eighty-one days. The line of route, going westward, is from New York to San Francisco, say 3,300 miles, San Francisco to Yokohama, 4,700, thence to Hong Kong, 1,000 miles, thence to Calcutta, 3,500 miles, thence to Bombay, 1,400 miles, Bombay to Suez, 3,600 miles, from Suez via Alexandria and Brindisi to London, say 2,300 miles, and from London to New York 3,200 miles. When we remember the voyage of the Mayflower, and earlier still, that of the Columbus, such trips as this strike the mind with astonishment. Still it is clear that the "round strip," as outlined above, is far from being perfect in any particular. It is devious, that is to say, and yet does not [illegible] in all the places of most interest that such a journey should. When the projected improvements of the Indian route are carried into effect across Europe, and a great Continental railroad is established with proper branches and connections through Asia, the trip round the world will be shorter in duration and space, and at the same time more interesting.

Protection and Free Trade.

Henry Clay, in a speech in the United States Senate, in 1832, said:

If the term of seven years were to be selected of the greatest prosperity which this people have enjoyed since the establishment of their present Constitution, it would be exactly that period of seven years which immediately followed the passage of the tariff of 1824.

The tariff of 1824 was a protective one. In the same speech Mr. Clay said further:

If I were to select any term of seven years since the adoption of the present Constitution, which exhibited a scene of the most wide-spread distress and desolation, it would be exactly that term of seven years which immediately preceded the establishment of the tariff of 1824.

Those seven years were years of British free trade.

Much attention has heretofore been paid to the product of the gold mines of Russia; yet it is now shown that no inconsiderable part of the increase of gold in commercial channels is the product of her mines. Statistics show that since 1752 the gold obtained from Russian mines represents a value of 489,687,790 roubles,—a rouble being worth about 75 cents of our money. Up to 1868 the Australian mines had yielded $707,000,000.

Last week we published several articles relative to a lease of coal land in Salem in which Mr. A. Myers was interested. The public, we trust, has not understood us as implying that any censure should be cast upon Mr. Myers for borrowing a part of the State educational fund. We intended nothing of the kind, and know no reason why his action in the matter should be considered other than honorable and proper.

A dispatch from Salem, received last evening, announces the success of the whole Republican municipal ticket, in the election held yesterday (Monday), by large majorities.

LETTER FROM EASTERN OREGON.

La Grande, Union Co., Nov. 24, 1871.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

Sir: The people of Eastern Oregon are strongly in favor of the Portland and Salt Lake Railroad. But we learn from Portland that certain opposition exists there to the proposed enterprise. This is wrong; for the welfare of Portland will be as greatly conduced by it as is possible that ours of this locality, or any other in Eastern Oregon, may be. It has been proven by time and examination; by the geography of the country, the rivers, and mountain ranges, that this railroad enterprise stands pre-eminent in every national point of view that the construction of a railroad may be viewed in, and is of vast importance to the development and growth of the State at large; and if this opposition is strong enough to become active in Congress during the present winter, it may thwart those most brilliant prospects, which, by the construction of this railroad, are in waiting for our young State.

It is yet the time of probation of our friends and our enemies. How true those will prove, that we have a right to rely on as our friends, will be known. Gov. Grover, we are glad to learn, has given his influence to this enterprise by signing the petition forwarded to Congress, and surely, as the Christian Advocate well remarks, this petition to Congress is one which every citizen of Oregon ought to sign, that has an opportunity.

In railroad strifes in times gone by in Oregon, where they have been connected, or by some have been attempted to be connected with politics, or politicians, the true interests of the State have predominated; and it is well that this has been so. It shows an honesty among politicians and leading partisans that is an honor to the State.

It is chimerical to chase the abstract propositions of politics and ignore the material growth or industries of the State at large. This railroad measure ought not to be connected with politics; but woe to the man or set of men who oppose it and then come before the people for their suffrages.

California is ahead of Oregon to-day in population and in wealth, yet her statesmen are not far-seeing or ingenious. Wealth alone has led her on to her present position, and if Oregon hereafter pays tribute to her, it should be a curse upon the leaders of Oregon and will be a shame upon our people. This enterprise of a railroad from Salt Lake will build up, in our State, an interchange of commodities and products of the various countries that have commerce with the United States in any way, and will centralize within the State business and trade which would else fly to the older States, and, may be, be lost to our country entirely.

Different from this theory is the construction of railroads which only tend to take trade away from the State. Josephine county, although remote, so that it might be supposed she has no interest in, or hope or benefit from the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad, has at least the interest of being in the State, where so much and all of this is being done and will thereby reap a rich reward.

More anon. Yours, VINCULO.

P. S.—Winter has set in in earnest here and gives signs of being a very hard one. V.

Pandemonium in New York.

"The Devil" is the appropriate heading of an article in Saturday's New York Sun, descriptive of "the first ball de la Grande Duchesse." It was the first French ball of the season, inappropriately so called, for it is merely a gathering of the demi monde and the depraved of both sexes, though indeed, hundreds of respectable men attend it as lookers-on. The man who managed the affair was one Charles Edgar, an American. We have room only for this extract, descriptive of as tearful a scene as could well be imagined;

One hour later and all was changed. Then all the attempted innocence was gone, and nothing remained but the hideous show of vice. Countenances bloated with wine, and lips impure with satiety, all decorum seemed to be forgotten, and nothing but the bestial animal nature survived. Prudence and hypocrisy were cast aside and the true instincts came forth. Women that one would meet on Broadway in the day, and who would glide away as a fair vision of purity, were here reveling in drunkenness and obscenity. Foul-mouthed vituperation, insulting to all except the men who accompanied them, and who performed the nice and cleanly duty of defending these women in their filthiness. And for the young men who stood looking on at all this, fancying themselves in the height of ethereal enjoyment, it was a terrible lesson to keep away from this whirlpool of vice which lures on the good and strong to vice, destruction and death. And how strange it is that with such a horrible gang, respectable people will mingle. Here are many persons of good standing. Husbands—their wives at home; wives—their husbands away; fathers—their children in bed; and even young girls. But these people, whom we should just as soon look for at the Tombs as in such a place, seem to enjoy the thing with infinite zest, all, no doubt, because some brazen idiots bruit it around that enjoyment is to be had at these balls. At 2 o'clock the scene was beginning to assume the appearance of an orgie. The music beat faster and the feet flew quicker, and the excitement grew more intense. The women kicked their legs higher and the men laughed the hoarser. What hitherto had scowled disrespectable became downright outrageous. Scenes which should only have taken place in the privacy of a chamber were flauntingly shown forth in the open boxes. The women left the arms of their escorts and flew to others with whom their hearts could apparently sympathize better. The men who had money in their pockets were openly adulated and knelt down to; those who had none were deserted and cast aside like old shoes. It was the worship of Mammon, and wine and women were the prizes it brought. But it was in the champagne room that the excitement grew to a fever heat. Here the tables erected were crowded around, seats being at a premium. The corks flew fast, and the wine flowed around into the glasses, over the ladies, down on the floor. Broken heads followed broken bottles, and angry tempers began to be felt in angry cries. Talking, crying, shouting, shrieking from a thousand human throats, endless and obscenity, laughing and weeping—all was so mixed up in one horrible, reeking, unearthly din that the spectator might have fancied himself in some frightful scene of Dante's hell. And in all this numbers of drunken women, their hair falling about their shoulders in disheveled masses, their eyes bleary and dull, their walk unsteady, their lips thick and oozy, and so foul mouthed that no one could listen to them without a shudder of disgust. Out of two hundred women present, it is safe to say there was not ten but were beastly drunk, and others, plied by many an eager offer of wine, went through all the gestures and postures of the obscene ban-can, while the audience reveled in the luxury of their contortions. They literally shrieked with delight, and the wine went flowing on as before; it seemed an interminable stream covering everything, men, women, tables, floor, dresses, all.

Railroads in California.

The following railroads are now operating in California:

Main Central Pacific road, to State line, 293 miles; California and Oregon branch of same, Roseville Junction to Red Bluff, 115 miles; San Joaquin Valley branch of same, Lathrop to Bear Creek, 58 miles; Southern Pacific, to Hollister, 100 miles; Watsonville branch of same, 20 miles; California Pacific, Vallejo to Marysville, 95 miles; Napa Valley, branch of same, to Calistoga, 33 miles; North Pacific, Donahue to Healdsburg, 42 miles; Sacramento Valley road, 48 miles; California Northern, Marysville to Oroville, 26 miles; Stockton and Copperopolis road to Milton, 46 miles; San Rafael and San Quentin, 2½ miles. Total, 902½.

Of the 902½ miles in operation in California, the Central Pacific own 814 miles, which, with the line to Ogden, makes a total of 1,429 miles belonging to that Company.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

San Francisco, Dec. 4.—Don Rosas, Mexican Consul, will, to-morrow, reply to the fulminations of Drake, DeKay and Coin in regard to the alleged revolutionary raid on the Magdalena Bay colonists. Nevin and Sanson, with only fifty men, all regular soldiers, went there by the direction of Gov. Davalos and the proclamation by the late Collector of the Port, is not worth the paper it is written on, as the authority for such action rests only with the supreme government.

There are six cases of small pox on Powell street.

The officers of Col. Barnes' Regiment, 1st Infantry, N. G. C., have determined to go to Sacramento to attend the inauguration.

The Overland train is seven hours late to-night.

The Osborn-Heslip jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The old members of the Board of Supervisors retired this evening, and the new ones took their places. Mayor Selby is now reading a lengthy valedictory address.

The nomination of Shannon for Speaker of the Assembly by the Republican caucus is construed here as favorable to Sargent's election as U. S. Senator.

Mayor Alvord has taken his seat, and the Supervisors, after electing Forbes, Story and Mensies, all Tax-payers, as Finance and Auditing Committee, directing the Mayor to appoint all other committees. Burk Phillips will undoubtedly be elected Prosecuting Attorney for the Police Court, vice Londerback elected Judge.

The California Theater is jammed to-night at the first production of C. W. L. Barnes' new drama, Solid Silver. It is enthusiastically received and is a success.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

California Legislature.

Sacramento, Dec. 4.—The Senate was called to order at 12 o'clock this M. by Lieut. Governor Holden; Secretary called the roll. Some of the Justices of the Supreme Court being found, the new Senators were sworn in by Judge Ramago, of the Sixth Judicial District.

A committee was appointed to prepare rules for the regulation of the Senate, to report at next meeting. Senate adjourned till 12 M. to-morrow.

In the Assembly the new members were sworn in by Judge Ramage. The Assembly adjourned till to-morrow.

An informal caucus was called of Republican members of the House. No business of importance was transacted. The caucus adjourned until evening.

Stockton, Dec. 4.—It is rumored that the transfer of the Stockton, Copperopolis and Visalia railroad to the Central Pacific railroad will take place to-morrow.

ARIZONA.

Los Angeles, Dec. 4.—The Prescott (Arizona) Miner of Nov. 23d says work on mines in Bradshaw district is mostly suspended until spring. Five tons of ore shipped to San Francisco yielded $2,200 per ton.

Immigration to this district continues, almost unprecedented. Mail facilities will soon be extended from Prescott. A party of forty left Florence for new mines in Rival district. The excitement is spreading throughout the whole of California and the Salt Lake country. A party left Prescott last week for this district.

A great activity is noticeable at military headquarters in preparation for winter campaign. Gen. Crook is at Fort Whipple.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Alameda City Election.

Alameda, Dec. 4.—The municipal election in this city passed off quietly to-day. The election is very close, the Democrats electing the Mayor, Recorder and Treasurer. The Republicans have the Marshal and three Aldermen. The following are the gentlemen elected and their majorities: Rev. A. W. Sweeney (Dem.) Mayor, 16; James R. Herron (Dem.) Recorder, 15; C. C. Kuhn (Dem.) Treasurer, 3; William Riley (Rep.) Marshal, 62. Following are the Aldermen: Charles M. Cartwright (Rep.); W. H. Kuhn (Rep.); S. E. Young (Rep.) G. A. Hill (Dem.); A. Parker (Dem.); A. Heckleman (Dem.).

The weather has been terrific for several days, and it has rained almost incessantly for the last thirty-six hours. The river is raising quite rapidly in consequence.

Last night an alteration took place in Myers' Saloon, on Main street, in which a man named John Collins received a slight stab in the breast from a knife in the hands of a Spaniard. Had the knife entered two inches further to the side it would have no doubt terminated fatally.

Floods in California.

[From the San Francisco Bulletin.]

We have become familiar with drouths in California. It will do no harm to consider the possible contingencies of floods. One of the most intelligent native Californians whose name has become historical, has made the following observations: A flood occurred in the year 1822, when the water covered all the low lands, and rose to a greater height than ever known before. Had the country been settled as now, the disaster would have been very great. The next memorable flood occurred in 1832, the water not reaching the extreme height of ten years before, but still covering the low lands to a great extent. In 1842 there occurred another great flood, not unlike that of '32. The pioneer settlers of California remember distinctly the flood of 1853, and it is not necessary to dwell upon the particulars. The last great flood occurred in the winter of 1862. Sacramento was submerged, dams, mills and manufactories were carried away on the principal streams, roads were destroyed, bridges disappeared, and the destruction of property was very great. The winter of 1872 is supposed to complete the cycle again, promising that a flood will occur every ten years. The facts tabulated stand as follows:

Floods.	Floods.
1832	1862
1842	187-

There is some difficulty in determining just when the cycle is filled out; as during a winter season floods may occur near the close of one year or some time after the new year has commenced.

We leave the blank for the last decade, not caring to fill it up until we have more tangible evidence of a flood.

Chicago's Lesson.

The Chicago Journal has made a partial canvass of the leading firms and business houses of the city regarding their losses by the fire. The information it prints is based upon the actual loss of stock and merchandise, and does not include losses on lumber, coal, buildings (except to the real value of $3,000,000), real estate nor the personal losses of individuals. Its total foots up $37,287,500 worth of property destroyed—probably about one-third of the entire loss by the great conflagration. The heaviest individual losses are: Field, Leiter & Co., $2,000,000; J. V. Farwell & Co., $1,660,000; Hamlin, Hale & Co., $800,000 (these three are dry goods firms); Albert Crosby (Opera House and distillery), $1,250,000; and Hubbard, Spencer & Co. (hardware), $475,000. The city's losses, including City Hall, Water Works, bridges, sidewalks, etc., are put down at $1,085,000, which is thought to be a very low estimate. The railroad losses are set down at $1,992,000, and the churches at $4,240,000. These last named principally represent buildings. There are a great many individual losers to the amount of $300,000 and upward.

Position of Polygamy.

Salt Lake correspondence of the New York Tribune speaks severely of those who have been trying to create sympathy throughout the country for the polygamists who are now receiving punishment. We extract this paragraph:

If so much is to be claimed for these men, who have been as cruel and unscrupulous as the worst robber-barons of feudal times in forcing a worse than feudal custom on an unwilling people, beginning by threatening them with the displeasure of the Almighty, and ending, if they stood out, by cutting their throats—of course, "to save their souls"—if these men are to have so much consideration, surely their victims should have some. What of Mrs. Hawkins, for instance, whose husband's brutal treatment in casting her off after she had borne him seven children, and marrying other women, bringing them into the house and trying to put her out, drove her to prosecute him? And she and her class never to have redress? No one can be prosecuted under the law except on complaint of husband or wife. Usually, it would require a great deal of bad treatment to drive husband or wife to prosecute the other under this or any law. It is safe to conclude that where man or woman is compelled to invoke it, its punishment is deserved.

The Chicago people are beginning to feel like old times again. The marriage and divorce business has opened up briskly. Since the fire there have occurred in that city, 319 marriages and 112 divorces. She will rise.

It is now proposed to put nitro-glycerine into trunks to warn baggage men against handling them roughly.

Work of every description in the house finishing line will be done at short notice to the best of satisfaction.

Failure of many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco to cure a case of Rheumatism.—Triumph of the Uric Weed Remedy.

San Jose, August 25, 1871.

Dr. A. M. Loryea & Co.: This is to certify that I, the undersigned, have been sick for five years with Rheumatism, and have been treated by many allmente. My trouble has been weakness of the back and side, and wandering pains all over my body. I have been treated by many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco, as well as of this city, but without any effect. At last I was induced to try your URIC WEED REMEDY, and the result was that after taking the contents of two bottles I found myself perfectly cured. To all afflicted with Rheumatism, I say TRY THE URIC WEED REMEDY, and you will be cured. Yours truly, JAMES AHERN, San Jose.

TUESDAY MORNING, DEC. 5, 1871.

CITY.

ILLUSTRATION OF HUMAN DEPRAVITY, ETC.—The Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association met a poor man a while ago on the street who earnestly desired work. He went to the man's home and found that he had a wife and four little children, very destitute. Help was granted and the man went to work. He is a commaker by trade, and has felt that if he had the tools he could earn a living. To this end he solicited subscriptions for the West, the excellent paper that Mr. J. F. Curtis has now in hand. After working half a day and obtaining but one subscriber he thought he could do better at digging ditches. Bad weather, however, kept him out of this a little. Advised by some to circulate a subscription paper he did so and had raised six dollars, when he went for the Rooms of the Association. Not finding the Secretary in he handed the money to a man who stood at one of the stands reading a paper, at the same time requesting him to hand it over to Mr. Josylin on his return. The man never did as requested. He carried it away, and nothing has been seen of it since. It was quite a blow to the poor man. Six dollars are surely a large sum, and he thought he was all on the way for those tools. The depravity of this stranger let him back, and he did not know exactly where he was. When asked why he trusted a stranger with his money, he said he did not know; he thought the man he saw reading there had a right to be there; thought they were connected with the rooms; supposed they were Christians any way. He was a thin man, and looked as though he didn't work much. He should not be afraid to take hold of him if he met him. These two men may meet again, the one simple-hearted and confiding; the other mean and treacherous; the former struggling with manly energy to support his little ones; the latter, a sneak that steals the bread from their mouths. It is some consolation to know that the poor man is to have some tools. Next week he may be shall be not with combs for sale. He knows also now that all are not necessarily Christians that enjoy Christian privileges.

STREET SEWAGE.—One of our cotemporaries has an editorial article in favor of a reform in the sewage system of this city. The attention of the authorities has been called almost seventy-times seven times to the defects of the present drainage, not only by the press, but by innumerable overflows of the streets. These calls have, however, failed to secure any action looking to a change for the better, and meantime the city has gone on expanding, new streets have been opened, and old ones have been improved—all with the same old defective methods of drainage. The Council has not seen fit to learn from past experience, and to correct mistakes, as it would be reasonable to expect of them. Some of these days it will become a necessity to create a new system of drainage. The longer it is postponed the more expensive it will be. It would seem to be only a suggestion of wisdom to begin the reform at once. If the Council shall fail to do anything in that direction, the people ought to see to it that, in the next election, members are chosen who will pledge themselves to take such action as it is plain is necessary.

RESULTS OF THE VICTORS.—The election of Chief and Assistant Engineers of the Fire Department, yesterday, was the most earnestly and closely contested that has occurred for years. To the honor of the firemen be it said, however, that zealously and indefatigably as they worked for their favorites, the election passed off without any of the unfortunate disturbances so often witnessed in contests of a similar character. The race between Williams and Bruen was so close that both sides had for some days claimed the victory, and there was a good deal of betting among their respective friends and backers. After the result was known, the bells of the several engine houses were rang, as in the usual custom, and Williams' friends stopped at a course of rejoicings and congratulations, which lasted till late in the evening. A band was procured, the streets were paraded, Williams was serenaded, and all had a jolly time. The scenes in the streets, except as to numbers, were more like those following a general election than anything we ever saw except at a general election.

ANOTHER LECTURE ON THE WOMAN QUESTION.—Mrs. Duniway is going after 'em, now. What Miss Anthony left undone in this vineyard to make naughty and aggressive man behave himself properly, Mrs. Duniway proposes now to do. Not that she is going to make war directly upon men, but rather by indirection—she strikes for their altars and their fires. She is going to lecture to the women—so we conclude from the reading of her subject: "Women's duty as citizens." We utter like the plan. If she can fetch the women to their own surrender with a better grace, if worse comes to worst, when the women come to fetch us! The lecture, however, we are reconciled to say is to be free to all—male and female, upon prepayment of fifty cents for each; and will be delivered at Oro Fino Theater, Wednesday evening. The compliment paid to Mrs. Duniway's Forest Grove lecture, by our cotemporaries leads us to expect something worth the hearing.

LICENSING SALOONS.—In a late vagrancy case in San Francisco, Judge Sawyer made the following sensible remarks, which it seems to us apply equally well to this city and State: "Whether it is for the purpose of creating a revenue for the city that licenses for liquor saloons are granted to all who ask them I do not know; but I do know that there are a great many who now have licenses who ought not to hold them; and I think that the next Legislature should pass a law creating a Board of competent persons, who should issue license to such persons only who could prove that they were proper parties to keep drinking saloons, and that the Board should have power, upon a proper showing, to revoke the license. By doing this, the Legislature would break up the many dens now existing in the city, which are only harboring places for thieves, vagrants, and idle and dissolute persons; and in my opinion, the abolishment of such places would be striking at one of the great roots of crime."

FIRE DEPARTMENT ELECTION.—The annual election for Chief and two assistant Engineers of the Fire Department, took place yesterday. In consequence of the absence of one of the board, we understand the official count of the votes was postponed. The result, however, is thus given us, unofficially, by one of the clerks:

FOR CHIEF ENGINEER.

A. A. Williams	120
W. O. Bruen	120
Williams' majority	0

FOR ASSISTANT ENGINEERS.

A. Wendt of No. 1	124
Wm. Saunders, No. 1	120
Chas. D. Dell, H. & L. Co.	118
Whole number of votes cast	247

If our report be correct, Mr. Wendt is elected 1st Assistant, and Mr. Saunders 2d Assistant.

CHRISTMAS EVE BALL.—It was announced a few days ago that Baker Post No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic, had determined on giving a ball on or about Christmas. Yesterday morning the ball advertisement appeared, announcing it as a Christmas Eve ball, to take place Friday evening, the 22d. Christmas comes this year on Monday; so that Friday evening is the nearest to the holiday that could be selected. It is the intention of the Post to give, in connection with this ball, some musical and other entertainments at the opening, and perhaps at intervals during the evening. The committees have these matters now in hand, and no effort will be spared to make the entertainment one of the best of the season.

A COOK MISSING.—Mr. Gray informs us that the cook employed on the dredger is missing somewhat mysteriously. It is stated that he came to Mr. Gray Sunday night to get a boat to go down to the dredger, being then somewhat intoxicated. Upon going down to the dredger, yesterday morning, however, he found that the cook had not been there. Later in the day the boat was found on the other side of the river, but nothing could be heard of the cook. It is possible that he missed his way, found the shore, and concluded to get out and have his drunk out, and that he may yet turn up all right.

DIED.—At Natchez, Mississippi, Nov. 20th, Edward Kilbourn, brother of Oscar Kilbourn, of this city, of yellow fever. He had just received, on the 15th, a commission from the President as Assessor of Internal Revenue for the 1st District of Mississippi. He was also the Cashier of the branch of the Freedmen's Savings Bank of Natchez. The sad news came to the brother, Oscar, yesterday.

STEAMER DUE.—The steamship Oriflamme, which left San Francisco on Saturday, will be due here to-night.

MESSAGE.—There is a message in the Western Union Telegraph Office for Dr. J. M. Morrow.

THE COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.

MONDAY, Dec. 4, 1871.

State of Oregon vs J. C. Spencer; Larceny of a mule; sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

State of Oregon vs James Ward; petit larceny; sentenced to three months in the county jail.

State of Oregon vs Chas. H. Parker; larceny; sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

State of Oregon vs Sam'l Vowels; mayhem; verdict, "guilty as charged."

Silliman Lowis, juror, was excused until Thursday.

State of Oregon vs Jas. Miles; mayhem; on trial; testimony closed.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The present is the first week in advent.

Rev. W. H. Melese will go for the rumsellers to-morrow evening.

The jury in the case of Sam. Vowels, found him guilty of mayhem.

Almost every other man we met yesterday was looking for his umbrella.

Rev. John H. Babcock, an Episcopal minister for Corvallis, arrived by the last steamer.

CONDITION OF SHERIFF BILLS.—We regret to learn that Mr. C. Bills is still very seriously sick, with inflammatory rheumatism. The weather has been for two or three days very unfavorable in its effects upon him, otherwise we should probably have had the pleasure of reporting him convalescent. Though he suffers intensely, the physician is confident he will bring him through.

SENTENCES.—In the Circuit Court, yesterday, several sentences were pronounced upon persons convicted of crimes. J. C. Spencer for selling a borrowed mule and thereby committing grand larceny, was sent up for one year; James Ward, petit larceny, to the county jail three months; Chas. H. Parker, larceny, one year.

CHANGES HANDS.—The Herald newspaper establishment has changed hands. T. Patterson & Co. having sold out to the "Herald Publishing Co." The incorporators in the latter are E. Semple, B. B. Taylor and J. H. Lappeus.

STEAMERS ON THE UPPER COLUMBIA.—The steamers of the O. S. N. Co. are still running on the Upper Columbia as far as Wallula, and will continue to run as long as navigation remains practicable.

CHANGED ROUTES.—Yesterday the steamer Emma Hayward commenced running on the route to the Cascades, and the Dixie Thompson resumed her old place on the route to Astoria.

ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP.—In the United States Circuit Court yesterday Samuel Sellers, a native of Bavaria, was admitted to citizenship.

RELIEF SOCIETY MEETING.—The Ladies' Relief Society will meet at the usual hour to-day (Tuesday) at 2½ o'clock.

BUSINESS NOTICE.

REMOVAL.—G. Neimeyer & Co., merchants, have moved from the old stand on Front street to Wilson's new building, Third street, between Morrison and Alder, where they will be happy to see their old customers.

JEWELRY, &c.—B. L. Stone, the Jeweller, calls the attention of the public to his notice elsewhere. A careful perusal of the same will give all the information desired by those wishing to purchase at very low prices.

CROCKERY SALE.—Mr. A. B. Richardson will sell at ten o'clock to-day, on Morrison street, between First and Second streets, a large assortment of crockery, glassware, silver-plated ware, etc., etc.

MR. B. L. STONE desires to inform his friends, patrons and the public, that he has now on hand one of the largest stocks and finest assortment of Jewelry of all kinds, embracing some of the most elegant diamonds and precious stones—all sorts of Watches and Clocks, silver and plated ware and a general assortment of Spectacles, Opera Glasses, &c., &c. Mr. Stone particularly requests persons visiting anything in his line to call and examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

THE GRAND DUKE ALEXIS has signified his intention of coming as far west as San Francisco. He will not be able to visit Portland, but he has given orders to J. G'Noll & Co. for a suit of clothes, as he is well aware that at that establishment can be had the best fitting, most stylish, and to cap the climax the cheapest suits to be obtained in this city. Not only have they excellent clothing but they have a full stock of Star Shirts, new ties, undershirts, drawers and the famous Quanoco Umbrella. It is unnecessary to say more. Go to G'Noll & Co's, 95 First street, and rest assured you will be pleased with what you see.

S. L. Stone is giving more toys and fancy goods for six bits than any house in town does for one dollar.

As S. L. Stone is closing out at cost his fancy goods, toys and willow ware, this is the last chance to buy cheap.

I say, mister, where is the Postoffice? Why, it is next door to S. L. Stone's cigar and tobacco store.

Kris Kringle's headquarters is at S. L. Stone's, next door to the Postoffice.

Everybody says S. L. Stone is selling the best bit and two bit cigars in the city.

BOSS TWEED and others of the Tammany Ring have been stirred up very lively of late, but that is nothing compared with the excitement caused by Kohn & Fish's, who have stocked their large clothing establishment, No. 91 Front street, with goods for winter wear to suit all classes, not only in style but in price. Seeing is believing, so go and examine their stock.

Vigilance Hook & Ladder Co. No. 1.—Regular meeting this evening at 7 o'clock.

E. ZEITFUCHS, Secretary.

Portland, December 5th, 1871.

That Famous Store(y) Reset.

BY A PRESS MAN.

Go where you will throughout the town;
Or even stroll the country round,
The self same notice meets your eye
Of "Go to Barman, Clothes to buy."

Both taking what a treat 'twould be
Also this famous store to see,
Right to the place at once did I
Myself betake his Clothes to try
And in less time than I can say, sir,
New Clothes I'd donned—the low price paid, sir.

TESTIMONIAL.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty testimonial that we have employed her in our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction," and that it has proven superior to any method we have ever known. And that although the first cost may be a trifle greater than some others, we believe it to be in the aggregate much cheaper, beside being a great economy in point of time. We, therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before increasing any expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our homes and interview her pupils.

Winter Wisdom.

Warm clothing alone will not protect the body against the consequences of the sudden depression of temperature which is concomitant of early winter. Flannel next the skin preserves the animal heat, but it does not impart animal vigor. That property is the special prerogative of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is therefore a specific protection against a majority of the complaints which are most common at this season. For example, a course of the great vegetable invigorant, commenced now, will be almost sure to preclude chills and fever, bilious colic, disorders of the stomach, constipation and many other complaints which are often the direct or indirect effect of an atmosphere surcharged with cold, unwholesome vapor. Moreover, the system toned and regulated by this means is much more likely to resist pulmonary disease than it would otherwise be; for the influence of searching medicine pervades all the organs, and every fiber and tissue of the frame. Persons whose vital powers are weak, especially invalid ladies and the aged, are earnestly recommended not to face the winter's rigor without having recourse to this safe and sufficient means of reinforcing enfeebled nature. Much suffering may be escaped, much danger averted by following this council. "Better late than never," is a good proverb, but it is better to be early than late.

AN UNPREJUDICED PHYSICIAN INTERVIEWED.

Bold Opinions Truly Expressed.

POPULARITY IS NOT ALWAYS A proof of desert. Every newspaper man knows that. Many articles are engineered into temporary popularity that have no intrinsic merit whatever. It is an easy thing to make sweeping assertions and sow them broadcast in the columns of the public press. But there is a class of experienced and thoughtful minds not to be caught with chaff, like Captain Cuttle, they want "an opinion as is an opinion," in other words, the judgment of competent and disinterested authority, as a basis for their own.

Several of these cautious individuals having done us the honor to invite an expression of opinion in these columns on the properties of the much talked of Tonic known as PLANTATION BITTERS, we have taken the pains to obtain from a distinguished physician whose ability and integrity of purpose no one will venture to question, what may fairly be deemed a conclusive answer to the questions of our correspondents. Dr. Elias Reynolds Whitmarsh, as a surgeon, pathologist and chemist, has few superiors west of the Alleghanies, and the following conversation which occurred a few days ago between that gentleman and one of our staff, is offered, without comment, for the information of "whom it may concern:

REPORTER.—Have you any objection to state your views in relation to a medicinal preparation which has obtained great celebrity in this country? The object is to ascertain whether the reputation is deserved or not.

DR. WHITMARSH—If I know anything about the article, I'll tell you what I think of it. What is it named?

REPORTER—PLANTATION BITTERS.

DR. WHITMARSH—Well, it is a wholesome vegetable tonic.

REPORTER—Anything else?

WHITMARSH—Yes, it has a mild aperient property, and produces a salutary effect upon the liver when that organ is diseased.

REPORTER—It contains alcohol I understand—Santa Croix Rum.

DR. WHITMARSH—Of course it contains a diffusive stimulant. If it did not its medicinal ingredients would be comparatively inert. They are rendered operative by the alcoholic principle.

REPORTER—Supposing that theory to be correct, is Santa Croix Rum a good article for that purpose?

DR. WHITMARSH—The best I think. It is more agreeable and far less exciting than the spirits made from grapes or grain.

REPORTER—But are stimulants really necessary at all in medical treatment?

DR. WHITMARSH—Sir, if you had ever practiced medicine you would not ask the question. They are an essential portion of the materia medica. Every intelligent member of the profession knows that. The physician who denies it is either a hypocrite or a fool.

REPORTER—Do you consider a medicated stimulant, like the PLANTATION BITTERS preferable to simple alcohol? In other words, would the Santa Croix Rum be as useful without the other ingredients as with them?

DR. WHITMARSH—Certainly not. Among those ingredients are Extract of Dandelion, one of the finest antibilious medicines I know of, Calisaya Bark, of all tonics the best, and Chamomile, an admirable stomachic. The remedial powers of these curatives is increased probably tenfold by the nutritive stimulant with which they are incorporated.

REPORTER—You seem to have a high opinion of the Bitters.

DR. WHITMARSH—I simply state facts, sir. You must draw your own conclusions.

REPORTER.—May I ask if you ever prescribed PLANTATION BITTERS for your patients?

DR. WHITMARSH—I do, frequently. All that I have said to you is founded on my own experience. I never make positive statements on unsubstantial grounds.

REPORTER—I am sure of that. Excuse me for having trespassed so long on your valuable time. Good evening.

We presume the correspondents who have addressed us on the subject of PLANTATION BITTERS, will consider their questions satisfactorily answered by the remarks of Dr. Whitmarsh.

BUSINESS MOVING BACK!

SINCE TAYLOR & BROWNELL OPENED that new store on THIRD STREET, 2 doors North of MORRISON, and filled it with DRY GOODS, it is remarked that parties in want of anything in that line call there for it.

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY!

PURELY MUTUAL!

ASSETS ..... $17,000,000!

ISSUED 9,025 POLICIES IN 1870.

Insuring Over $27,000,000!

WM. H. BEERS, Vice President and Actuary. MORRIS FRANKLIN, President.

AMONG THE ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY are:—

1st. PURE MUTUALITY, so that the entire surplus earnings over the actual cost of insurance is returned to the policy holders who are the only members.

2d. AGE, having been organized in 1845. It has the benefit of the experience of a quarter of a century, and members are thus guaranteed from all doubtful experiment in the method of conducting its business.

3d. STABILITY AND PERPETUITY shown by the accumulation of a capital of Seventeen Millions of Dollars, after paying all losses promptly, and returning large dividends to its members. It has now an income of over Seven Millions of Dollars, and the interest on its investments, with premium on gold, &c., has been sufficient during the past two years to pay accruing losses.

4th. NON-FORFEITURE OF POLICIES. It originated the system of non-forfeiture of policies, and to it the public are indebted for a feature so favorable to the insured.

5th. SUICIDE does not cause a forfeiture of the policy, that being considered an evidence of insanity, and insanity the result of disease.

6th. DIVIDENDS. Its dividends are declared annually, and are available immediately as cash in payment of premiums. Many companies declare their premiums annually, but do not pay them till several years thereafter, others defer their declarations for two, three or four years from the time the policy commences. In this Company a party always has a dividend which can be used in the payment of its second and all subsequent annual premiums.

7th. ITS DIVIDEND SYSTEM is the "Contribution Plan," by which each member is charged with the exact cost of his insurance, and receives back his surplus payments. These dividends can remain with the Company, participating in its earnings, and be used at any subsequent period to the payment of premiums.

8th. LIBERALITY IN SETTLEMENT OF LOSSES.—Experience has shown that cases arise, where policies, although technically claims, are not LEGALLY so. The records of this Company bear many acknowledgements from widows and relatives of deceased members of its liberality and fairness in settlement of all such losses. There being no stockholders in the Company to share its profits, interests adverse to policy-holders cannot possibly arise, the Trustees simply occupying the position of arbitrators between the members, with no inducement to favor one or the other.

The Story of a Ring.

ONE OF THE ROMANCES OF THE WAR.

[From the Kansas City Times.]

In the year 1861, a young man, then living a few miles from this city, went into the Missouri State guard as a soldier. At Springfield, and on the re-organization of this branch of the army, he took service as a Confederate. Afterwards he joined a company in Col. Up. Hays's regiment, and participated in the battle of Lone Jack.

Before leaving home, however, his mother gave him an old-fashioned gold ring, which had a heart upon it, and the letters M. S. engraved upon this heart. She placed it on her son's hand with a wish, or, rather, a prayer, that he might go through the war safely, and get safely back to his home again.

It is not known that either the ring or the prayer acted as a charm, but the young man went unharmed through many bloody fights, being hit in but one of them, the wound then proving to be only a mere scratch.

In 1864, the young man was very sick of a fever at Clarksville, Texas. During the delirium attendant upon it, and while he was tossing to and fro, the ring slipped from his finger and was lost. The closest search failed to find it, and it was given up for good. There waited upon the young man, however, a very pretty and sensible girl, who seemed to be very sorry when he got well enough to rejoin his command. When he left he laughingly told her that if she would find his ring, and he lived, he would come back and marry her. If this promise was made at first with any degree of seriousness it was soon forgotten in the excitement and [illegible] of a soldier's life, and only at rare intervals, perhaps, did he recall the sick room and the ministering angel.

When the war was over the young man returned to his father's farm in Jackson county, and went to work in good earnest. Two years ago his mother died, and once more the loss of the ring came back to him with troubled sorrow. He determined to write to the lady who had nursed him, and to inquire of her whether she was married or not, and whether she had ever seen or heard anything of the present his mother had made him.

The letter was written in August, 1869, and in March, 1870, what was his surprise to receive an answer from the identical girl he had left in 1864, and to whom he had made a slight [illegible] She was still single, and was [illegible] for him. And what was [illegible] only five days before she wrote she had found the ring. The manner of finding it was [illegible]. The father of the young lady [illegible] to hack away repairs necessary in the taking up of the floor of the room in which the girl had been sick. After doing this, and while digging away some rubbish beneath, the workmen came upon the ring. It had slipped through a crack in the floor, and had been lying there, safe and sound, for nearly five long years. The lady took possession of it at once, and wrote immediately to its owner, as we have stated above. Perhaps she looked upon its recovery as an omen, and perhaps it was. At any rate it was a little romance with all its attendant [illegible].

The correspondence thus commenced, or rather renewed, was continued with an ever increasing ardor on the part of the gentleman, until in the end he made a new and impetuous offer of marriage. Without that the story would be incomplete. Last week with money in his pocket, a good home in Jackson county, and a great happiness in his heart, this young man [illegible] older and more [illegible] than [illegible] Clarksville, Texas, the home of his betrothed. Who can doubt [illegible] He will [illegible] there probably a month, and return again to Missouri with his bride. When he does we promise to give his name. Until then it is impossible, for the condition of secrecy was attached to the [illegible] before we could obtain it. The circumstances, however, are just as we have narrated in every particular, and furnish another to the long list of romances and [illegible] that have grown out of the war.

The late Thomas Ewing, who, without being a great scholar or a great statesman, had a vigorous Western mind, with some tincture of learning, used to relate with gusto the criticism on Virgil made by an Ohio flat boatman, which was certainly as well-deserved as many of the censures lately passed upon the new poet, Miller, for so slightly treating the Indian braves of his heroes. Ewing said that he was, when a boy of twelve, reading [illegible] translation of the Æneid, and added: "At that point in the narrative where Æneas discloses to Dido [illegible] of leaving her, and tells her of the vision of Mercury bearing the mandate of Jove, one of the men sprang to his feet, declared he did not believe a word of that—he had got tired of her, and it was all a made up story as an excuse to be off, and it was a d—d shame, after what she had done for him."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Gold in New York, 110¼.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, 90c buying, and 91 selling.

The steamer George S. Wright is announced to leave for Sitka and intermediate ports December 7th, and the steamer Otter is to leave for San Francisco Dec. 9th.

The Okanagon left for Astoria to-day. She will be up to-morrow having to tow the bark Barracouta.

The steamer of 150 tons burthen building at Tillamook creek [illegible] launched and may be expected here within three weeks. She was ostensibly built for the trade between here and Tillamook, but it is thought she will be put on between here and Sound ports.

We [illegible] the departure of the brig Brewster in another column.

The following are the names of the vessels loaded with Railroad Iron, the number of days out, and an estimate of the number of long tons of Wheat they will load:

Names	Tons.	Days out.
Sparkling Dew	800	214
Herrington	800	104
Ada	350	148
Chetah	1,250	139
[illegible]	900	127

The Sarpedon is in, but not chartered yet. Her carrying capacity is 900 tons of Wheat, for the United Kingdom.

We are informed by a gentleman who ought to be well informed, [illegible] twelve miles from the [illegible] had left the appearance of being rough they put off, as in the case of the two vessels reported off the bar about a week ago. The tug followed one of them several miles to overtake and bring her in, but had to put back without success. If vessels in coming to our city, on approaching the bar, would not put to sea quite so soon when the bar presents a rough appearance, they would often succeed in getting in. The bar is being [illegible] better formerly, as it is proving to be [illegible] deep enough.

The following table gives the exports of Breadstuffs from New York from January 1st, 1871, to November 18th, in comparison for the like period of 1870:

	1871.	1870.
Flour, bbls.	1,485,243	1,725,823
Corn meal, bbls.	108,726	70,702
Wheat, bushels	20,276,155	15,763,959
Rye,	437,692	92,431
Oats,	37,620	24,420
Barley,	90,233	154
Corn,	12,597,140	356,805
Peas,	82,476	141,347

Now that Oregon has received sufficient rain to insure her a large harvest, it is a matter of interest to watch the movements of those in that State who have bought or held on to Wheat for higher prices in the event of a drouth. Some who hypothecated their Grain for [illegible] are willing, while others who are better situated are holding on in hopes of something turning up; and all the same time anxiously watching the tonnage movement for fear that the market being once broken and more Wheat offering with shippers buying free at reduced rates, [illegible] a [illegible] in which event charters must advance, and the Wheat market be still more depressed. From the present lookout such appears to be the [illegible] result. We have called attention to the fact that charters for California and Oregon are with difficulty effected in Europe even at enhanced rates, owing to the fact that vessels arriving here have had great difficulty since June or July in obtaining return cargo, even at greatly reduced rates and in some instances have gone seeking. Our last mail advices from San Francisco give the following: There was in port six vessels with a tonnage of 4,923 tons, all being taken, viz: two for Central America, on ship's account (probably to bring return cargo of Coffee) and balance for Coal and Lumber. There were 19 vessels in port Nov. 24th, engaged as follows: two to go to Australia in ballast for cargoes, one to British Columbia in ballast for cargo, three with Wheat for the United Kingdom, one to Hongkong, one to Honolulu, two to Tahiti and balance to Mexico and South America. The telegraph informs us that thirty-five vessels were due, which upon arrival will get ready clearers, [illegible] more vessels were wanted in San Francisco at last mail advices to load lumber and to send [illegible] for cargoes than were in port, so that it will be seen that Wheat exporters if desiring many vessels must come in competition with the demand from other sources.

The downward tendency of the Wheat market as reported by telegraph on Saturday was fully expected by all who have been close observers of the Breadstuffs movement in the United Kingdom and on the Continent. While expecting a decline in the Liverpool market, the rapid fall from 12s to 12s 8d within a week was not looked for and took all by surprise. But by reviewing the European market we find that all the estimates of short crops, etc., to do at the fore part of the harvest season there have proved erroneous. The United Kingdom does not require so much as at first estimated by fully 2,500,000 qrs or 22,000,000 bushels. France is now represented as requiring only 48,000,000 bushels, whereas in the commencement of the season it was estimated that fully 90,000,000 bushels would have to be imported to meet the deficit. The reports from Germany and Italy, though giving the general yield far from satisfactory, yet states that the yield was better than anticipated. The reports from Russia are still conflicting, but from the number of vessels cleared with Wheat from the south of Russia the number is fully 50 per cent. more this year than last; that cotton must either have had an average crop or else the stock of old on hand must have been very large. The stocks in Odessa, only one shipping point, two years ago were over 10,000,000 bushels in excess of former years. How, large the stocks were at the commencement of the present harvest season we are unable to say, but from the fact that great Britain did not import as much last year as the year before, although taking from Russia 1,000,000 cwt. (112 lbs) in excess of 1869, we should think that the stocks of old Wheat on hand were large. Egypt, Illyria, and Danubian Provinces had large stocks of old Wheat on hand with an average crop of new, owing to the lack of transportation to market it. By consulting the statement of imports into the United Kingdom it will be seen that from the commencement of the harvest season (August 20th) to Nov. 4th, the imports of Wheat has been in excess for the same period in 1870, 3,028,830 cwt. the total imports of Wheat for the 10 weeks amounted to 9,564,380 cwts. With the above facts well known to many it is not at all surprising that a decline in prices was confidently looked for, as all nations short of a large supply could import enough to meet their wants without resorting to famine prices or ovenwary high rates. One good effect that high prices will have will be to draw out all old stocks and leave the markets of the world virtually bare for next year's crop.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—The telegraph was not working through to-day and in consequence there is a feeling of uncertainty, owing to the few quotations which came through on Saturday. We give below the names and tonnage capacity of the vessels that will load for the United Kingdom. The Brewster will be put on for San Francisco immediately after she has discharged her cargo. In absence of any transactions we can only give shippers' offerings, which are 87 to 88 in coastal region.

FLOUR—The market is devoid of animation outside of local requirements. Our millers are turning out a better article this year than any previous year, and it is singular that the Stocks are not reported here in the San Francisco market. If the proper course is pursued there is no reason why the prices for Oregon Flour in the San Francisco market should not be from 25 to 50 cents per bbl. more than Portland or Dalles can command. We quote market for extra of standard brands at $7 outside and superfine, $8 50 @ 9 bbl.

OATS—Market presents no new feature since last report. We quote prices firm at $2 65@2 60 @ cental, sacked.

EGGS—The market was reported last week as being 35 cents @ 40c in San Francisco, and in consequence prices dropped here to 30 cents @ 35c. Our San Francisco exchanges of last week do not quote the market there below 60 cents @ doz. We quote market here at 40 cents @ dozen.

Merchandise Market.

OLIVES—Mail advices from the Mediterranean received at New York, confirm the report of the almost total destruction of the crop there. The French crop is not yet heard from. The market in New York in consequence had a better tone imparted to it, with an upward tendency.

BOOKS—We make a brief market reading, with sales of 900 boxes R. Irving & Co.'s at 37½@38c.
